Title

Marriage word may have several meanings for everyone. For some people it may consider as responsibility and for others it means real love and romantic life or others will consider it as new hope, new life and a bright future. No one denies the importance of marriage and the most important value in this life is marriage and with marriage life will go on. But the concept of marriage ages is began to change in recent years than it was in the past and new concept of marriage ages become to this generation.

In the past, people married at a young age and this was due to several reasons and the most important reason is that the life was simple and also the boys become a man in early age and that because they work to earn money or they help their fathers and that would make them bear the responsibility. It's also the same for the girls, girls become women in early age and that because she will do the house work and she will help her mother in household chores and that would make her bear the responsibility. In the past, a boy or girl need less time from now to realize the responsibility that lays on their shoulders and that because the environment which they live and that made them feel more responsible about them self.

But in these days the idea of marriage does not come in early age and if we note the default age of the marriage has become more year after another and I think he will continue to grow until the default age of marriage will be 40 years old. However, there are factors that have helped this idea is most important that the life become complex than it was on in the past and it is no longer easy and simple as in the past. Life become difficult because of the economic crisis and it became difficult to get a job that will provide a good living. In addition, boy or girl does not feel the responsibility and they need more time to realize the responsibility that lies on their shoulders because they depend on their parents.

Despite the facts that life has become difficult and complex and young people need more time to realize the responsibility that lies on their shoulders, early marriage seem to be good decision, because it has many benefits for married couples and the community. Marriage means stability for both parties and reassurance of the soul and psychological comfort. Early marriage allows the individual to gain autonomy from the family. For example, young people want their own home and they will look for financial resources in order to provide for their new family, which will lead them to the status of an adult. Whenever a marriage was at an early age whenever the opportunity has become larger and most beautiful. It's become the largest because it's a promising with good future for both of them and they still in the prime of their youth. So they are in front of a bright future to create a family and get the children. This is also the result of early marriage allows them time to have children in early and to educate them. The big difference in ages between parents and children is not so great. For example, having children in early age will enable them to raise their children at younger ages so that they can keep up with the times in the upbringing of their children rather than being a father at the age of forty and the child still in the age of ten, it would be difficult for both of them to understand each other and that's because the great difference of age.

Although, early marriage contributes to the construction of family and responsibility early on and allows for parents raising their children the best way, early marriage will prevent them from falling into adultery and having sex before marriage is forbidden in many religions because of the damage left on people and society. Getting married in early age will avoid them to do the sin. Early age is the most beautiful age to get married because they do still enjoy the beauty and strength and health of their body as young people and they must exploit this force and this health to enjoy in marriage, instead of later marriage, which accompanied with many of the diseases that may disturb their lives.
